

WAR CONTROLS TO RETURN ON STEEL EXPORTS

By SIGRID ARNE

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—The United States will revert October 1 to its strict wartime controls over steel exports.

These require government approval of both the country to receive the metal and the use there to which it is to be put.

Since shortly after the war American exporters have been permitted to lump orders and ask permission to ship a specific tonnage.

M. E. Sweeney, chief of the commerce department's export control division over general products, told a reporter today the return to the wartime allocation method is necessary because of the large sums the United States is spending on foreign reconstruction.

First consideration in issuing export licenses, Sweeney said, will be given to requests for shipments aimed at rebuilding basic industries most likely to move the purchasing nations back into financial good health.

Since the policy could result indirectly, however, in coloring the industrial pattern of nations now dependent on American steel, the commerce department is preparing to consult with foreign governments on that score as well.

In explaining the decision to clamp tighter controls over steel products, Sweeney said:

"For the basic industries of Europe we would rather ship them, for instance, can making plants than tin-plate with which to can their perishable foods. On the other hand, we'd rather send them tin-plate than keep on sending food. And we'd also rather send them tractors to produce their own food. Our whole drive is to get them back to producing for themselves."

London, Aug. 7 (AP)—A British official blamed rising American prices and "the rapidly increasing surplus of U. S. exports over U. S. imports" today for the sudden worsening of Britain's economic crisis.

Britain's plight is linked to a "worldwide dollar famine" caused by America's selling to foreign countries more than twice as much as she buys, the chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Dalton, told the House of Commons.

1 DEAD, 1 HURT IN VOTE FIGHT

Moselle, Miss., Aug. 7 (AP)—One man is dead, another wounded, and two others are being held on charges of murder as the result of an argument here in which the word "nigger lover" was applied to a man who Tuesday aided two Negroes to vote in the Democratic primary.

District Attorney Homer Pittman of Hattiesburg said the men being held on murder charges are Walter and Ellis Gerald, brothers charged with shooting to death R. W. Phillips and wounding his brother Otis Phillips.

He said that when two Negroes were challenged at the polls in Tuesday's primary, Walter Gerald phoned Laurel, Jones county seat, ascertained the Negroes were properly registered and gave that information to poll officials. As a result, Pittman said, the Negroes were allowed to vote.

Yesterday, Pittman said, Ellis Gerald engaged in an argument with the Phillips brothers, one of whom, he said, termed Walter a "nigger loving" Ellis, he said, left and returned with a pistol accompanied by Walter. In an ensuing argument the two men were shot, Pittman said.

Alert Police For 2 Negro Fugitives

A police net was thrown out this afternoon for two Negroes in a Chevrolet truck alleged, in a teletype message received by state police at the sub-station here, to have stolen an automobile body and auto parts from Don Clouser's service station, six miles south of Harrisburg.

The teletype from Harrisburg said the men were headed south toward Gettysburg and the Maryland line. The truck bore Maryland license plates.

Aid of borough police was enlisted, and Chief of Police Robert C. Harper and Patrolman Kenneth Tawney were stopping all vehicles entering Gettysburg via the Harrisburg road, at the Broadway intersection.

SHIP SPONSORS INCLUDE WIVES OF PRESIDENTS

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—A group of distinguished women who have smashed champagne bottles on the prows of America's fighting ships before they slipped down the ways had a cup of tea at the White House recently.

Members of the Society of Sponsors of the United States Navy, which was organized at the Willard Hotel here in 1908, they were attending their annual convention in the capital.

Margaret Truman, who christened the historic Missouri, on which the surrender was signed in Tokyo Bay, is among the prominent members, but she was unable to be present for the sessions. Her mother was hostess.

Have 700 Members When the society was organized only about 20 women were eligible for membership. Today the society numbers some 700. Mrs. Russell C. Langdon of New York, who christened the destroyer Rowan in 1918, has been president of the society for the past 25 years.

Journeying the long distance from Juneau to come here for the meeting was Mrs. Ernest Gruening, wife of the Governor of Alaska and sponsor of the cruiser Alaska.

All of the Presidents' wives, including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who christened both Yorktowns, are members.

Mrs. James M. Helm, White House secretary, christened the first San Francisco. She was a mere slip of a girl when her father, Rear Admiral A. E. K. Benham, was stationed there.

She christened the first of three destroyers named for her father since then and splintered a bottle on the prow of the Helm, named for her husband, Rear Admiral Helm.

Mrs. Mitscher a Member Other members who participated in the gathering included Mrs. Marc Mitscher, sponsor of the carrier White Plains; Mrs. Arthur Sutcliffe, sponsor of the ship Robert Fulton, named after her ancestor; the society's first vice president, Mrs. Royal E. Ingersoll, who christened the submarine Gato; Mrs. Lister Hill, wife of the Alabama senator, who christened the Alabama, and Mrs. James E. Palmer, of Atlantic City, sponsor of the S-9.

Mrs. Hill rounded up some 4,000 brand new volumes from authors and publishers for the library of the Alabama, and Mrs. Palmer annually presents a gold watch to the honor graduate of the Naval Academy in memory of her husband.

Mrs. Reid Riley of Alexandria, Va., who 40 years ago traveled by train all the way from Helena to Newport News, Va., to christen the big cruiser, Montana, was the only one of the three living charter members of the group to attend the sessions.

STATE PUSHING HIGHWAY WORK

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Road improvements on Pennsylvania's war-neglected highways were spurred during the first five months of this year with an outlay of $40,271,000, the State Highways department reported today.

This represents almost as much as was expended on highways in the state during the entire year of 1946, the department stated, in disclosing that contract awards for improvements last year amounted to $41,981,000.

Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said the department plans to spend about $80,000,000 this year on highway improvements, adding: "This administration is committed by Gov. James H. Duff to a well-balanced highway improvement program and the Department of Highways intends to carry it out to the limit of its resources on the 40,700 mile state highway system."

So far this year the department has awarded 216 contracts for road construction, Smock disclosed. He emphasized that if bidding continues satisfactorily and there are no shortages of materials and equipment "we should be able to reach our goal."

Smock pointed out, however, that the Highway department's improvement program is not confined solely to work being done under contract, noting that the department has authorized the expenditure of approximately $14,000,000 for improvement of state highways by maintenance forces.

at Bailey's request about aviation legislation.

"Reputation Ruined" Brewster also repeatedly hit at Hughes' story of a "proposition" for a merger. "The suggestion that I held a whip over Mr. Hughes is ridiculous," he declared.

When Brewster had replied to Hughes' series of written questions, the plane manufacturer shouted that the committee was being "unfair" by its procedure.

Hughes told Ferguson: "The answers he gave were evasive and in many cases it was not possible to get a direct answer. Not having his replies challenged in any way by the chairman is unsatisfactory, so I shall not submit any further questions in this way."

The lanky multi-millionaire told the senators "my reputation has been ruined."

Had Been Warned Ferguson asked Hughes whether anyone else was present at a luncheon in Brewster's Mayflower hotel apartment last February at which Hughes charges the senator offered "in so many words" to call off the inquiry into Hughes' plane contracts.

Garrison Finish
homerun by Abe Hankey with result of singles, cut the All s' margin to 6-5 in the bottom of the eighth inning.

ie All Stars came back with a 7-3 victory over the Brooks, the very same bunch who entered St. Louis
last week with a seven game lead
and walloped the runner-up Cards
three straight times to apparently sew up the National league flag.

While Brooklyn has been getting belted three straight times in Chicago and twice in three starts in Boston, the Redbirds have roared back with six straight victories including last night's 6-3 win over
Cincinnati, to trail by five games.

The Dodgers definitely are in a tough spot now despite the fact that they come home tomorrow following
the series finale with Boston.

With Larry Jansen, the Pacific coast league rookie righthander continuing his excellent mound work,
the New York Giants knocked off
the last place Philadelphia Phillies
5-2 in a daylight game at the polo grounds. Jansen scattered eight hits for his 12th victory against four defeats. Three unearned runs in the first inning won for the Giants who now trail the Dodgers by only six games.

The Pittsburgh Pirates snapped a 2-2 tie with a three-run rally in the sixth and added two more in the ninth to defeat the Cubs in Chicago 7-2. Roger Wolff, former American league, won his first National league victory.

Newsom Beaten
Bobo Newsom, the much travelled veteran righthander, suffered his first setback as a member of the
New York Yankees when the Athletics nipped the Bronx Bombers 5-3
in Philadelphia. Newsom blew up in the sixth after yielding only one hit
in five innings as the A's batted around for four runs. Bobo has won four in a Yankee uniform. Young Bill McCahan went the route for the A's to register his fourth win.

Homers by Al Clark and Billy Johnson accounted for all the Yankee runs.

The Detroit Tigers moved into second place 13 games behind the American league leading Yankees
by taking both ends of a double header from the Cleveland Indians
13-6 and 7-5.

Sox Drop Notch
The Boston Red Sox dropped into
third place one game behind the Tigers when Washington beat them
for the second straight night 1-0.
Lefty Mickey Haefner limited the Red Sox to five hits for his eighth triumph, four by shutouts. The Senators got only two infield singles off
starter Earl Johnson and Mickey Harris, but placed them together in the opening inning and aided by an error by Bobby Doerr, scored an unearned run.

The Chicago White Sox bunched
five of their 10 hits in the second inning to score five runs and defeat
the Browns in a night game in St.
Louis 7-3.

CARDS, GIANTS SHAVE DODGERS' LEAGUE MARGIN

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The frantic Brooklyn citizenry was wondering today whether the coroner would supply an affidavit to the effect that the current Dodger
"corpus delicti," which has dropped five of its last six games, is the same very much alive body which boasted a 10-game lead only a week ago.

Last night the Boston Braves made it two out of three with a 7-3 victory over the Brooks, the very same bunch who entered St. Louis
last week with a seven game lead
and walloped the runner-up Cards
three straight times to apparently
sew up the National league flag.

While Brooklyn has been getting
belted three straight times in Chicago and twice in three starts in Boston, the Redbirds have roared
back with six straight victories including last night's 6-3 win over
Cincinnati, to trail by five games.

The Dodgers definitely are in a tough spot now despite the fact that they come home tomorrow following
the series finale with Boston.

With Larry Jansen, the Pacific
coast league rookie righthander continuing his excellent mound work,
the New York Giants knocked off
the last place Philadelphia Phillies
5-2 in a daylight game at the polo
grounds. Jansen scattered eight hits
for his 12th victory against four defeats. Three unearned runs in the first inning won for the Giants who now trail the Dodgers by only six games.

The Pittsburgh Pirates snapped a 2-2 tie with a three-run rally in the sixth and added two more in the ninth to defeat the Cubs in Chicago 7-2. Roger Wolff, former American league, won his first National league victory.

Newsom Beaten
Bobo Newsom, the much travelled veteran righthander, suffered his
first setback as a member of the
New York Yankees when the Athletics nipped the Bronx Bombers 5-3
in Philadelphia. Newsom blew up in the sixth after yielding only one hit
in five innings as the A's batted around for four runs. Bobo has won four in a Yankee uniform. Young
Bill McCahan went the route for the
A's to register his fourth win.

Homers by Al Clark and Billy Johnson accounted for all the Yankee
runs.

The Detroit Tigers moved into second place 13 games behind the American league leading Yankees
by taking both ends of a double
header from the Cleveland Indians
13-6 and 7-5.

Sox Drop Notch
The Boston Red Sox dropped into
third place one game behind the Tigers when Washington beat them
for the second straight night 1-0.
Lefty Mickey Haefner limited the Red Sox to five hits for his eighth triumph, four by shutouts. The Senators got only two infield singles off
starter Earl Johnson and Mickey Harris, but placed them together
in the opening inning and aided by
an error by Bobby Doerr, scored an unearned run.

The Chicago White Sox bunched
five of their 10 hits in the second
inning to score five runs and defeat
the Browns in a night game in St.
Louis 7-3.

'HOOT MON' WINS HAMBLETONIAN IN RECORD TIME

By SID FEDER

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 7 (AP)—Around the race track, they used to say,
"Money can't buy a champ." As a result of the derby doing this year —running and trotting both — there is now a slight switch in the old gag.

It now reads:
"Money can't buy a champ—but it helps."

Mrs. Elizabeth (Arden) Graham, the lipstick princess, has been toas-ing her cosmetics coin around the running horse sales in large chunks for several seasons now. And this year she finally got the necklace of roses in Kentucky with Jet Pilot.
A little number for whom she'd laid a mere $41,000 on the line.

Took Last Two Heats
Yesterday, in the trotters' derby
—the Hambletonian—Mr. and Mrs.
James B. Johnson, who breed the sulky-pullers on their Lexington, Ky., farm and show sorses on their Rochester, Mich., acres, came up with Hoot Mon, who'd only cost them $50,000 a year ago, as their hope to finally bring their colors home.

Hoot Mon was the highest-priced
gee-gee ever to run in a Hambletonian.
And he not only meandered home in front of the Dixie Flyer, Red Hot Rodney, in two out of three heats, but he ran the fastest Hambletonian of them all—a mile in two minutes flat—to do it. It wasn't only a Hambletonian record, in fact, but equaled Greyhound's mark for the fastest time ever posted in a race in all trotting history.

With that sizzler leading off, this 22nd corn-tassel hustle turned out to be the record-settingest one of all the 22 in the books. A new attendance high of 18,333 folks was chalked up at Bill Cane's Good Time track, and they shoveled $151,907 into the mutuels on the Hambletonian alone and $336,024 on the 16-acre "endurance contest" program for a couple more new all-time toppers.

Stands Collapse
The hayseed scramble is getting so big now, in fact, that if it keeps up Smilin' Bill is going to have to spread his kite-shaped layout farther around the Orange county hills, and Goshen, which finds it a little tight trying to squeeze an extra 18-000 boys and girls into the same space that 3,000 usually fit just nicely, probably is going to have to find an annex on Hambletonian Day.

Yesterday, they were practically hanging from the rafters at Good Time. Cane built temporary bleachers up near the head of the stretch to seat 2,366 customers. And three sections of these—holding 546 seats —collapsed and crashed to the ground, injuring 73 fans, two of them seriously.

Mr. Webster says "Hoot Mon" is a Scotch term expressing incredulity.
And some of the 18,333 folks who saw the Johnson sizzler set fire to the track, still didn't believe it today. Whipped soundly by the giant Rodney in the first heat, beaten off in one bid after three quarters of the second mile, Hoot Mon picked himself up off the floor and threw his Sunday punch twice to grab the $24,979.86 winner's end and pay $7.50 for $2 and $4.30 for $2 for his two trips.

Big Name Golfers In Spokane Match

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7 (AP)—Rugged Indian Canyon bristled its pine clad back today and dared a flock of the nation's topnotch professional and amateur golfers to do something about its lengthened holes and lessened par in the four-day $10,000
Esmeralda open which began at 10
a. m. (PST).

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa.; western amateur champion Bud Ward of Spokane and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco—who has been hotter than Spokane's current weather—ruled as the early favorites among the 125 entrants.

There are plenty of goldfom's big names on hand to give this trio an argument. There's Lou Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., national open king;
18-year-old Al Mengert, just home from his successful defense of the national junior amateur crown;
chunky Ky Laffoon of Chicago;
Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, ex-tennis-
ter Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles;
Clayton Haefer of Charlotte, N. C.;
Herman Keiser of Akron, Ohio; Dr.
Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Ed
Furgol of Pontiac, Mich.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—Frank J.
O'Hara, former football star at Penn State college, has been named head coach at Easton high school, replacing Elmer E. Carroll, who recently left to take a similar position at Abington, Pa., high.

The Easton school board also announced last night the appointmtnt of Gust Zarnas, former professional football player, as assistant football coach and head wrestling mentor.
The first coach named in that sport
at Easton.

Old Halas U. better known as the Chicago Bears, also functions outside of the National Football league.
Owner-Coach George Halas had to send Quarterback Nick Sacrinity of Wake Forest the curricula of three Chicago medical schools before he signed a Bear contract. Sacrinity will work for his medical degree while playing pro football just as did Dr.
Danny Fortman and Dentist Bill Osmanaki.

Babe Didrikzen Zaharias, the queen of American and British golf, has announced that her next major tourney would be the National Women's amateur at Franklin, Mich., September 22-28, but don't count her out of the Women's Western amateur at Evanston, Ill., August 11-16. That's the only important title which has eluded her. The Babe was whipped in the 1945 Western Amateur finals by Phyllis Otto, and last year she bowed to unheralded Mary McMullin of Green Bay, Wis., in the semi-finals. Babe may be thinking over those rare defeats

Quarterback Arnold Tucker of Army won't report to the college
All-Star camp until a few days before the tangle with the Chicago
Bears at Soldier Field, August 22.
That means the All-Star signal for Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, Tucker's Army team-mates, and Charley Trippi of Georgia, will be shared by George Ratterman of Notre Dame, Ben Raimondi of Indiana, Tommy Mont of Maryland and Ernie Case of U.C.L.A. Coach Frank Leahy, however, may find use for Tucker's accurate passing.

Frank Reif, who joined the Carlisle high school faculty last November, will be head basketball coach next term, under a coaching schedule for 1947-48 approved by the Carlisle school board Tuesday night.
He coached the jayvee squad last winter.

Sports Roundup

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, Aug. 7 (AP)—There is plenty of grumbling around the Windy City about the second-division floundering of the Cubs and White Sox, but the popular pilots of both clubs, Charley Grimm and Teddy Lyons, still appear to be out of sniping range.

For one thing, both Grimm and Lyons stand solid with the boys who write pieces for the papers, because both are genial fellows who disdain double-talk and alibis.

If either has felt that a couple of real professionals would help his club considerably—which is only too obvious in both camps—he has refrained from publicly putting the squeeze on his front office.

Grimm's Cubs still are virtually the same club which won the 1945 National League pennant against war-decimated opposition and it's beginning to creak at the joints. The White Sox have a better blend of youth and veterans, but injuries and erratic pitching have taken their toll.

THE YEARS OF TRANQUILLITY

Youth is all for dreams, for adventure, for action. Youth is when the heat of life is on. No time for an appraisal of values or seasoned judgments. Not even time for the settling of a substantial friendship or matured love.

All is changed, however, with the oncoming of the middle and more mature years. Then it is that the mind looks out, far into the distant horizon, thinks over anew the dangers and joys of life, is more tolerant and considerate, and enters the years of tranquillity with hope and a sense of satisfaction. Like sitting in some quiet place, after the day's long toil, and looking into the calm, noiseless sky, with its floating tints of clouds, and the formations of castles, vapory and dissolving. But satisfying, nonetheless, because of their calming effect upon the eye and upon the soul.

Later friendships are usually more highly treasured for they have been selected with greater understanding. We have become weathered in sorrow and in joy, have lost and won, and by the sum total of things have come to our years of tranquillity with greater tolerance and breadth of judgment.

The petty jealousies and grievances of the earlier years melt into nothingness as we view in retrospect their shallow shells. We learn our own frame and substance, and how prone we are to error and misjudgments. We look out on nature and her endless empire of beauty, and from her we learn what textbooks have only barely footnoted. Knowledge is everywhere in nature. There is a lesson in every Dawn, in every Dusk, and in every sky of Stars.

We have time to think about these things when the years of tranquillity arrive. And are they not the most precious and the most revealing of all the years of one's life? Just to know a few things, and know that you know them, is something. The heart may find its step ahead a little more hesitant, but just look into the library of the mind and note what has been accumulated there! A regular treasure house. To use John Galsworthy's title, it might then be called an "Inn of Tranquillity!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Nature's Inter-Language"

Just Folks

The Poet of the People
By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE FORTUNE LEAVER

If the dead bear living voices, and I think perhaps they do.
He must have heard them wondering how so large his fortune grew.
He must have heard them saying: "With so much to us denied, It's amazing to discover all this money put aside!"

The dead man may have shuddered as he heard a loved one say: "These are things we used to ask for, he refused from day to day."

He said he couldn't buy them, and he bade us be content.
That he could have bought, but wouldn't, now we find is what he meant."

It could be that he regretted, as he heard them counting there, Every joy he could have granted, but the money wouldn't spare. And perhaps the dead man wondered in the silence of the grave, How he'd ever got the notion every dollar he must save.

Forty and Eight, received the cup for having the largest number of men in line at the parade of the state organization of that order held in connection with the state convention of the American Legion at York Friday evening. About fifty members were in the line of march.

17 Children In One Family Ease Labor Problems In Home Community; Raise Most Of Their Food

Shown above are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joseph Wivell, their seventeen children, Mrs. Wivell's mother, Mrs. David Guise, of Baltimore, and Dr. Morris A. Birely, of Thurmont, family physician who delivered all the Wivell children. From left to right, back row: James Francis, age 19; Joseph David, 18; Charles Edward, 17; Henry Anthony, 16; Robert Louis, 15; Bernard Roy, 14; Mary Margaret, 13; Donald Eugene, 12; and Thomas Cyril, 10. Seated: Mr. Wivell, 48, who holds Richard Leo, 1 year old; Dr. Birely; Mrs. Wivell, 40, holding baby Joan Louise, 2 weeks old; Mrs. Guise, holding Mary Genevieve, 2. Front row, kneeling: Paul Ignatius, 8; Helen Josephine, 7; David Clement, 6; Therese Agnes, 5; and Patricia Ann, 9.

A 40-year-old mother, who is a native of Adams county, and her 48-year-old farmer husband have no labor problems on their two farms south of Emmitsburg.

The old-fashioned brick house in which they live houses their 17 children, and the older offspring help make the farm work fly. The couple has had 18 children but one died of pneumonia at the age of six months.

Twins run in the families of both Roy Joseph Wivell and his wife, Helen Louise Guise Wivell, but all of their 18 children arrived one at a time. The eldest is 19 years and the youngest, two weeks.

All of the Wivell children were delivered at home by Dr. Morris A. Birely of Thurmont, a brother of Mrs. J. E. Kissinger, Baltimore street, Gettysburg. The 11 boys and six girls are in excellent health.

Like Farm Life

The Wivells were married 20 years ago and live on a farm by choice. Their children share their attachment for farm life and help with the duties of operating the 140-acre home farm and another nearby of 113 acres. When the boys can be spared, neighbors benefit by the surplus of workers at the Wivell home.

The Wivells produce on their farms the greater part of their food needs. They have hogs, chickens, cows, vegetables and fruit as food sources and raise corn and wheat for cash crops.

Mr. Wivell has lived all his life in the section south of Emmitsburg. He was born on Mt. St. Mary's college. He was born about a mile from his present home. His wife was born in Adams county, just north of the state line. Mrs. Wivell is one of five children and her husband is one of eight.

Help Themselves

The young Wivells learn young to be independent and help themselves. "Even the little ones, four and five, come down in the morning, get an egg, and climb on a chair to reach the stove and cook it for themselves," their father says with pride. Everybody has to pitch in and help, and they do it with great good will. With so many mouths to feed preparing for winter is a mammoth task and Mrs. Wivell cans enormous quantities of vegetables and fruit. The boys are handy in the kitchen too, and help jar things, she says. Perhaps the older ones learned because there were six of them before a girl made her appearance in the family. Now at 13 Mary Margaret does a good share of the housekeeping tasks and looking after the smaller fry.

Always directing things and keeping an eye on everybody is Mrs. Wivell, a dark haired, dark eyed, serene woman quite unflustered by the size of her family. She keeps them in line with a word here, a decision there, a suggestion a few minutes later.

Have Some Spats

How do the children really get on together? "Oh, of course they have spat," Mrs. Wivell says. "Don't make them sound too good. They

A sewing machine is simple compared with this telephone job!

Extending and improving telephone service is a complex and time-consuming job.

Thousands of precision-built parts must be painstakingly adjusted to work with each other. Millions of tiny connections must be soldered by skilled hands. Cables must be laid . . . poles erected . . . wires strung. Sometimes a whole new building must be constructed. That's why the job can't be done "overnight."

But today, telephone people are working hard to complete our important construction and expansion program—a program which will mean better service for more people than ever before.

disagree and then I step in and settle things."

The old 9-room house which is home to the Wivell brood came to Mr. Wivell from his father, and is believed to be one of the oldest houses in that area. It lies a mile or two from and within sight of Mt. St. Mary's college. Tradition has it that it was at one time in the Taney family and that half a century ago traces of slave cabins and other evidences of plantation life still could be seen.

The two eldest boys have completed high school and want to be farmers like their father. The third son, still in high school, thinks maybe he'd like to go to college and study agricultural teaching.

Mr. Wivell belongs to the Farm Bureau and the older boys are 4-H Club members. As for Mrs. Wivell, she thinks she has "enough home making right here" and she has never joined a farm women's group.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Beegle have sold their property along the Gettysburg road, known as the Mary Her-ring property, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gotti of Baltimore.

COLLECTION OF RARE BOOKS IS WORTH MILLIONS

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Most visitors to the rare book division of the Library of Congress want to see the $1,500,000 Gutenberg Bible, or they ask for the book bound in human skin, or the largest tome, or the smallest tome in the collection.

Chief Frederick R. Goff, who says the division is doing a bigger business now than it ever did before the war, would rather talk about something else for a change.

He takes you behind the scenes—into the air-conditioned cells where some 200,000 volumes, valued at at least $10,000,000 are carefully piled on shelves.

He pulls out a big heavy volume bound in white pigskin with brass bosses and clasps, and a lock and big chain. It was printed in Venice, September 10, 1488.

Books were pretty rare in those days and some folks used to chain them down. Goff says this book and several others like it must be fore-runners of the chain-bound telephone book found in hotel lobbies.

Book On Heraldry
Goff begins thumbing through a volume of heraldry printed in 1483, which contains the coats of arms of all the European nobles who attended the Council of Constance.

He seems proudest of a book printed by William Caxton. He was a rich man who at the instance of Margaret of Burgundy set up his own press in 1475 at Westminster.

He had a hobby of translating many French romances into English and was the first printer to concentrate upon publishing books in the vernacular.

The library has 13 Caxton books, of which 11 are from the Lessing J. Rosenwald collection of rare books presented to the division in 1943.

The rare book collection was started about 20 years ago, when books that couldn't be classified along with the general run were kept in the office of the librarian.

The collection has increased five-fold since those days, but the books that have been added were selected "not because they were rare, unique, or curious so much as because they mark a milestone in man's intellectual development."

Open to Everyone
The division receives more than 1,000 letters a year from people who

New Method Speeds Wine-Glass Forms

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—A new method of electrical drilling shapes diamonds into tiny wine-glass forms in one-fifth of the time it formerly took.

The wine-glass diamonds are diamond dies used for making extremely hard and fine wire strands, important in radar and many other electronic devices.

Developed at the National Bureau of Standards, the discovery has revolutionized the fine-wire diamond die industry and introduced it into the United States for the first time, says the Journal of the Franklin Institute.

Wires finer than 15 thousandths of an inch in diameter can be drawn only by diamond dies, and they are essential also for precision of size and roundness. Before 1940, such dies were imported from Europe because they took 100 or more man-hours to make, and labor costs here were too high.

With electrical drilling, the wine-glass die can be made in about 10 hours, and multiple production brings the time down to about two man-hours, the Journal said. The dies also wear better than those made by mechanical drilling, it added. The process was developed by C. G. Peters, W. B. Emerson, K. F. Nefflen, F. K. Harris, and I. L. Cooper.

PIGS WENT TO MARKET

think they have something rare the library would like to buy, or to ask questions.

The rare book division can be used by anybody. Only rules are: to register with the librarian; call for only one book at a time, and use no ink, in case you are jotting down notes.

Goff, a good-looking young man who likes light-colored tweed jackets and exotic neckties, was born in Newport 31 years ago. He came to the library in 1940 after working on a census of 15th century books in American ownership, of which he says there are 35,000. He was appointed division chief in 1941.

GERMANS SEEK HIGHER WAGES

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—The fact that the average German worker can't make both ends meet any longer under wage controls in effect since the Nazi era has led to loud demands for increased wages.

Trade union leaders have been pressing occupation authorities for approval of wage adjustments.

Because wages are out of line, a number of important industries, particularly building and metal working are having constant difficulty in recruiting and holding labor.

A study made by the statistical offices of the three German states in the American zone reported that the average essential expenditures of a normal consumer's family of five ranged from 170 to 185 marks in a four weeks' period. However, there wasn't a single industrial group in which the average earnings of unskilled male workers reached that level.

Under Living Expenses
Earning data available up to last September showed that unskilled building workers averaged only 131 marks in a four-week period. Even semi-skilled and skilled workers in a number of industrial groups earned wages below expenditures. The study emphasized that the up here in Tuolumne county are touchy about the beavers which game wardens have been planting around.

J. Whittle heard a shot on his ranch. Sure enough, there were a couple of boys skinning a beaver. Whittle held them while his son ran for the game wardens, who said they had planted the beaver only an hour before.

In court, the boys were fined $50 each.

CONSERVATIVES AND LABORITES HIT ATTLEE PLAN

By GLENN WILLIAMS
London, Aug. 7 (AP)—Conservatives and left wing Laborites found themselves in the same camp today in opposition to Prime Minister Attlee's new program to avert economic disaster in Great Britain—calling mainly for sharp cuts in imports and increases in production for export.

The leftwingers were discontented because the announced reduction in Britain's armed forces under the new plan would leave more than 1,000,000 men under arms by next spring—far more than the reduced number they have been advocating ever since they attacked Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's foreign policy last November.

Three Charges
The conservative opposition blasted the Attlee program on the ground that it was "too little, too late." They made three specific points in their criticism:

1. They said the government was dealing with the crisis too hurriedly, at too late a time.
2. They said the plan was not detailed enough.
3. They said the government had failed to give the country a full statement of the peril it faces.

Several London newspapers predicted the Conservatives would vote against the government tonight on the adjournment motion under which the crisis debate was being held. Such a step would constitute a protest without involving a vote of censure.

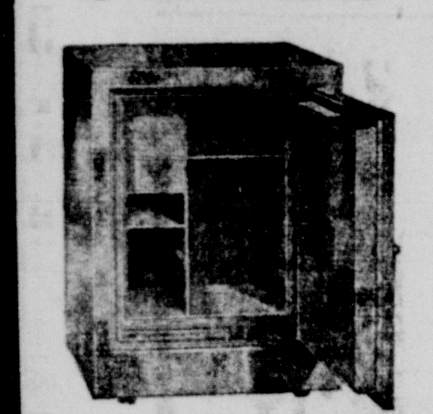

Vacations Result In More Stray Pets

San Francisco, Aug. 7 (AP)—How well did you provide for that pet you left behind at vacation time? The San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals notes a sudden rise in stray dogs that coincides with the summer vacation season. In April it picked up 1,255 cats and 1,738 dogs. By June the number had risen to 1,616 cats and 2,240 dogs.

"Too often," says Charles Friedrichs, local SPCA secretary, "neighbors who promise to look after Rover are careless. Other vacationers abandon their animals rather than turn them over to the SPCA."

"These wandering cats and dogs, too, eventually reach the SPCA, starved or misused in their search for the home they once knew."

All fish to be entered in the contest should be taken to Hoke's Hardware store for measurement. A big scale in the store window carries the names of the entrants and the length of the fish caught by them. Among the entrants so far are Professor Greco, "Kayo" Kielholtz, and Fredrick Bowers.

The contest has created considerable interest and people are frequently checking the list of entrants for the lengths of the "ones which didn't get away."

SPORTSMEN TO RAISE 125,000 'RING NECKS'

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Nimrods may look forward today to the release of 125,000 pheasants in Pennsylvania this year, thanks to the cooperation of sportsmen's organizations in growing them.

The state Game Commission already has 288 applications from sportsmen's groups seeking 79,000 day-old chicks for local propagation and eventual release as full-grown birds.

Meanwhile, the commission itself is raising another 46,000 chicks under the program which heralds what Executive Director Seth Gordon described "as one of the best hunting seasons in recent years."

Sportsmen last year released 52,367 pheasants 12 weeks old or more, of the biggest portion of 111,000 birds liberated in Pennsylvania in 1946.

"EIGHT BALL" BABY IN TOWN

Gettysburg and the battlefield were paid a visit Wednesday night by Walter C. Mielke, Jr., of Pitts- burgh, the "eight ball baby," and his father, Walter C. Mielke, Jr.

The boy, according to his father, has so many "eights" in his life thus far that he hasn't been able to keep track of all of them.

He started life in the Bellevue Suburban hospital, Pittsburgh. Each word of the hospital has eight let- ters, his father, who is something of a publicity agent for the boy, points out. He missed out on Pitts- burgh by two letters, but his home is in the section of the city known as Wood's Run—and that makes an- other eight.

After his birth, he was in Room 318, in the eighth room at the end of the corridor, and his was the eighth little bassinet in the nursery.

His sister, Arlene, was eight years old when he was born. The doctor who brought him into the world was Dr. D. S. Ward and his nurse was E. C. Lawson. (count the letters)

His birthstone is the sardonyx and his flower, gladioli, two more eights. His first birthday cake was topped with a real eightball.

The home address of the Mielkes is 428 Ecker street, Pittsburgh. On a recent trip to New York city "Eight Ball" Mielke told his story to Robert Ripley, who "promised" he would use it in one of his cartoons.

Scotch Whiskey Is No Longer Rationed

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Scotch whiskey is no longer rationed at state liquor stores in Pennsylvania.

The state liquor control board said yesterday a survey of the amount of scotch on hand, and enroute to the stores, indicated that all de- mands could be met as a result ra- tioning was lifted.

Scotch whiskey had been rationed in Pennsylvania since November, 1943. The rationing of other types of whiskey ended several months ago.

Suggests Causes For Knock-Knees

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 7 (AP)—Why do more pre-school age Aus- tralian children today have knock- knees than before the war?

The medical officer of the Return- ed Soldiers' League, Dr. A. P. Der- ham, says it might be because col- lapsible wooden "playgrounds" tempted youngsters to stand or walk for long periods. Other causes, he said, might be:

Young children standing with their mothers in shopping queues. Increased use of concrete and other hard substances in paths.

A possible deterioration of diet during the war.

New Zealand has the biggest dairy factory in the world.

TO DECIDE ON CHARGES TODAY

Sunbury, Pa., Aug. 7 (AP)—Horace W. Vought, Snyder county district attorney called on state police to meet with him today to determine future action against Robert Fox.

Identified by Vought as the man who robbed the First National bank at Beaver Springs on Tuesday.

"I want to hear all the evidence uncovered by the state police before I decide what charges are to be filed against Fox," explained Vought. "I also plan to confer with U. S. At- torney Arthur Maguire as to whether the federal government intends to take a hand in the case," he added.

Vought said he visited the Sun- bury hospital yesterday, where Fox was under constant guard by two state policemen while he recovered from injuries sustained when a car he was operating crashed into a tree.

"Fox signed a statement for the state police confessing his participa- tion in the bank robbery," said Vought, "and his only concern at the present time seems to be the extent of the punishment he will eventually receive."

Roush said that Fox, a Lewistown horse trader, told him he had been drinking prior to the time that he donned a grotesque mask and robbed the Beaver Springs bank of $7,324 at the point of a gun.

Emergency Aid For Great Britain May Have To Precede Marshall Plan Operation

LITTLE HOPE OF MARSHALL AID TO MEET CRISIS

By SIGRID ARNE
Washington, Aug. 7 (AP) — It is pretty well recognized here among government financial experts that "something may have to be done for Britain" if it takes too long to figure out details of the Marshall plan.

Britain, as well as a big chunk of western Europe, stands to get some kind of help under the Marshall plan after the countries decide, first, what they can do to help themselves and, second, exactly what they need from us.

But in the meantime it looks as though Britain may reach the bottom of the barrel by next March or April.

The Marshall plan must be ironed out by Congress, and Congress is not due back until January. There is little hope it will make up its mind before March.

Need Urgent Action
If there is any further delay, financial experts are guessing that the lawmakers will be asked to lay aside the Marshall plan long enough to give quick and urgent attention to a separate loan for Britain.

The torch which started off the under-cover Washington worry was a recent London announcement that the British will have to begin to pull on their gold reserves.

A nation which begins to live off its nest-egg is in exactly the same position as a family which does it. It is headed for bankruptcy.

Communism Threat
Government financial experts would like to think that any U. S. government money poured into Europe is a good financial risk. But the United States may be asked to disregard traditional investment policy and simply put money into Europe to stem communism.

Communism lies around any corner where people are eating too little and where factories might close for lack of raw materials.

Food and raw materials for the people and factories of western Europe must come in large part from abroad and, again in large part, from the United States.

For U. S. plans of a normal trading world, Britain is the king-pin because it is the great world trader. Its 47,000,000 people can't raise their food and don't produce much of the raw material for their factories. Hence they buy much abroad, and hence they keep world trade moving at a good pace—when they are buying.

Financial Cage
Part of their current trouble is a financial cage which the United States helped to build. It is a provision in the $3,750,000,000 British loan which says that beginning last month

Britain must pay off in either pounds sterling or American dollars to any nation from which it buys.

The British are doing it. But at the same time their dollars are disappearing at a greatly increased rate because most of the countries want dollars so they in turn can buy from America.

Here are some of the questions rattling around the high finance offices of Washington:
Should the U. S. relax its demands and permit Britain to suspend temporarily its policy of paying off in dollars? Should the U. S. vote the British another loan or gamble on the Marshall plan taking shape in time?

Return To Rationing
Should America go back to rationing, at least on wheat and steel, the

COMES TO U.S. TO MAKE STUDY OF GARDENING

New York, Aug. 7 (AP) — The Marchioness of Graham is in the United States on a post-war reverse lease-lend mission involving — exclusively two things Europe needs most? It would mean fewer autos and pastries for Americans. Would Americans take it?

Britain, and any other nation getting help under the Marshall plan, will also be asked questions by American financial administrators. Such questions as these:
Are European taxes high enough?

— the gardens of Scotland.

Lady Graham, herself an ardent gardener at her estate at Pintry near Glasgow, came to the United States to attend the meeting of the Garden Club of America in Minneapolis. She carried the invitation of the Duchess of Gloucester to garden lovers to visit the gardens of the British Isles and a notebook in which to jot down garden ideas which could be utilized in her native heath.

The big contribution to America by Lady Graham was her knowledge of "Scotland's Garden Scheme," under which a number of the famous estates including Glamis Castle and Balmoral were thrown open to the public for a fee. The profits —

Are Europeans trying to preserve a living standard too high for their actual situation? Is socialism really as efficient a way to get work out of people as free enterprise?

$92,000 last year — went to the support of the Scottish District Nursing association.

Scotch Gardeners Best

"Scotch gardens have never been particularly famous," she told a small news conference recently, "while English gardens are famous the world over and there are many of them in the United States."

"But most of the famous English gardens have Scot gardeners — because they are the best there are."

Lady Graham explained that until about 50 years ago, the usual garden in Scotland was walled-in and sheltered, and that within the walls were grown vegetables, flowers and fruit.

"About 50 years ago expeditions to China and Tibet and other foreign lands resulted in bringing back plants we had never seen before in the British Isles," she continued. "We discovered, much to our surprise, that many of them thrived in Scotland."

In the warmer western part of the country, gardeners developed rhododendron gardens, rock gardens, wild gardens, and water gardens.

"And what's more, palm trees and tree ferns grow beautifully there," she added.

In eastern Scotland, with its high ground and frost through April, all sorts of Alpine plants flourish richly.

Boosted Food Supply

The "Garden Scheme" was a boon during the war in stimulating interest in increasing the food supply, Lady Graham said.

"Most of the big estates were short a number of gardeners," she said. "At first we thought that we'd have to abandon the whole scheme because there just weren't enough people to keep the gardens weed-free. Then we decided to go ahead with the scheme anyway because if a garden had been in perfect condition it would have looked very unpatriotic."

Among the most popular gardens are, of course, Balmoral which was one of Queen Victoria's favorite castles, and Glamis (pronounced "Glams") which was started in the 11th century, has a tradition-laden history, and was the family home of Queen Elizabeth before her marriage. Auchincruive and its hanging gardens originally belonged to the Oswald family, and was once the home of Richard Oswald who as minister plenipotentiary negotiated the 1782 treaty with the United States. Inverewe on Loch Ewe is a great garden showplace with hundreds of species of South African, Chinese and South American plants.

Molded fruit salads are perfect accompaniments to simple summer fare.

ATOMIC SCIENCE DOING WORK TO ASSIST FARMER

By ROBERT GEIGER
Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Atomic scientists now are seeing what they can do to help the farmer.

Radioactive products from the chain-reacting uranium pile at Oak Ridge, Tenn., are being used in large quantities on experimental farms.

In one type of experiment, the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture, is seeking new information on how plants absorb phosphorus from soils. The phosphorus is made radioactive by exposure to radiation in the uranium pile, and its "tagged atoms" are traced in their course through the plant's digestive system.

In another type of experiment, the bureau is studying seeds which were exposed to the Bikini atomic bomb explosion. As exposure to radiation sometimes causes the offspring of plants to have characteristics radically different from the parent, it is possible that useful new plant varieties will be developed.

Photosynthetic Mystery

A third experiment with radioactive carbon is probing the mystery of photosynthesis, the process by which light shining on plants converts carbon dioxide and water into food sugar. Researchers at the University of California at Berkeley hope to find ways to improve on nature's photosynthesis and thereby make plants more efficient as food producers.

The objective of scientists is to produce new plants that may be immune to certain diseases, or plants capable of producing crops of better quality or in larger quantity.

In the experiments using radioactive products from Oak Ridge, the scientists are seeking a solution to this problem:

Superphosphate is the principal chemical in mixed fertilizers. Last season U. S. farmers placed nearly 6,000,000 tons of it on their lands.

To Check Sources

Most fertilizers are a mixture of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. Crops may use 60 per cent of the nitrogen and potash. But they rarely take up more than 20 per cent of the phosphorus.

Scientists want to know how much of the plant's phosphorus comes from the applied fertilizer and how much comes from the "native" phosphorus of the soil.

Here is the method scientists are using to obtain the answer:

A superphosphate is prepared from the radioactive material at Oak Ridge, and it is fed to corn, cotton, potatoes and tobacco. Plants absorb this in the same way they do ordinary commercial fertilizer. It has unstable or "tagged atoms" which shoot off electrons at random. They may be counted on a sensitive device, called the Geiger counter, as plants grow and absorb

Soviets Get House Units From Germany

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—Among reparations going to Russia from the Soviet occupation zone of Germany are thousands of prefabricated houses, according to the American military government's official German newspaper, the Neue Zeitung.

The newspaper—which recently reported that the Russians had transported out of their zone more than eleven thousand railroad carsloads of reparations products in a single month—said that extraordinarily heavy cuttings were being made in the zone's rich forests, with top priority going to reparations.

The Neue Zeitung, reporting that the Germans were also producing ships and railroad ties for the Russians, said the zone had reparations orders for 4,000 prefabricated houses to be produced for shipment to the Soviet Union during 1947.

It said that the houses were ordered equipped with central heating and sanitation facilities and electric wiring. Assembly line construction has been arranged, it added.

nourishment from the soil and the fertilizer.

Checked Soil Types

These results were obtained in laboratory experiments:

Perennial rye grass was planted on three kinds of soils. The first was "evesboro" soil, a sandy loam of the east with very little native phosphorus. Matured grass grown on it absorbed 80 per cent of its phosphorus from the applied superphosphate; only 20 per cent from the soil.

The second was "Davidson" soil, from Orange county, Va., a heavier clay loam. It is a general farming soil typical of many of the red soils of the southeast. The plants absorbed 60 per cent of their phosphorus from the applied superphosphate; 40 per cent from the soil.

Results in Few Years

The third soil was caribou soil from the potato producing region in Aroostook county, Me. It has a large supply of native soil phosphorus. This more fertile caribou soil supplied 88 per cent of the phosphorus the grass required and only 12 per cent was taken up from the applied superphosphate.

This first field experiment is a joint project of the Department of Agriculture, the North Carolina agricultural experiment station and Cornell university.

The first results have been so satisfactory that the bureau's scientists say:

"With tagged atoms we believe science can find the answer to many of the farmer's key fertilizer questions within a few years."

PLENTY OF OIL, TROUBLE IS IN TRANSPORTING

By VERN HAUGLAND

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—We have enough oil and gasoline for 1,000 to 2,000 years, in the opinion of Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Oil shortages, which have been freely predicted for the coming months, would be caused by lack of transportation and lack of steel for equipment for oil production, according to industry spokesmen and Interior department experts.

But, according to Dr. Sayers, there is plenty of oil underground.

"If the liquid fuels research and development program is carried out to the full extent that has been authorized," he says, "I believe we can meet any foreseeable needs in oil and gasoline for 1,000 to 2,000 years."

Research Makes Strides

The Bureau of Mines has made "substantial strides" toward establishment of a synthetic liquid-fuels industry upon reaching the half-way point in a five-year $30,000,000 program of research and development to be completed by 1950, Sayers says. Pending completion of an oil shale laboratory at Laramie, Wyo., research has been carried on there in temporary quarters. An oil shale demonstration plant was dedicated at Rifle, Colo., in mid-May.

At Bruceton, Pa., an almost-completed laboratory and pilot plant is to begin making synthetic oil and gasoline from coal this summer. Research has been underway, meanwhile, in temporary quarters in Pittsburgh. A $17,500,000 war-time synthetic ammonia plant at Louisiana, Mo., is being converted into a coal-hydrogenation and gas-synthesis demonstration plant.

Sayers adds that oil-shale reserves, principally in the Rocky mountain states, do not compare with those of coal but probably contain 92,000,000,000 barrels of recoverable oil.

This, he says, is four or five times the known petroleum reserves of the United States and is enough to supply the nation's liquid fuel needs for more than half a century.

Sees Ample Coal, Too

Natural gas, he says, is another potential source of liquid fuels. However, gas reserves of 100 to 125 trillion cubic feet will last only 30 to 40 years at the present rate of consumption, and substantially less if used also to make oil and gasoline in large volume. Petroleum reserves would last only 12 more years at the 1945 rate of consumption.

Viewing another section of the nation's fuel bin, Sayers adds "We have more than three trillion tons of coal in reserve in the United States. That is adequate to meet our needs for 3,000 years, even considering the use of coal for distillation into gas or for jet fuels."

He says it is a mistake for anyone to assume that atomic energy will replace coal.

"We've had tractors for a number of years, yet oxen are still in use in this country. It is likely that we will continue to use all types of energy production—coal, water power, atomic power—that become available."

WATCHES TATTLING

Bloomington, Ill. (AP)—Lemuel S. Jeun, a night watchman, has a peculiar but profitable daytime hobby. He tates handkerchiefs, doilies and pillowcases, and sells them to a specialty shop.

IT'S A PIPE
Johannesburg (AP)—Because it is impossible to obtain metal water piping, the Potchefstroom council has authorized the use of ordinary garden hose for connecting newly-erected houses.

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Murry McRay of a local inn had no odd jobs for the tramp to do in exchange for food, but she said she'd give him a meal anyhow. No charge. After he'd eaten and left, she found a 50-cent tip.

ZEST ADDED TO BIG CITY LIFE BY PARADOXES

By JACK O'BRIAN

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—In this city of paradoxes, the little surprises never fail to cause interest. . . like the tiny butcher shop I discovered nestled among the big, expensive and highly fashionable apartment houses on Park Avenue just above 65th Street. . . And that last vestige of dignified living, verandah dining, on the front porch of the Sulgrave Hotel on that same smart avenue.

In Harlem, a sign advertising "McDuffie's Chinese Restaurant." . . In Shor's, Judy Canova wearing a hairdo brushed over on one side, making the smartly attired hillbilly look like a left-handed waterfall. . . Same Saloon, Barry Fitzgerald asking the fat proprietor to introduce him to Glamour Guy James Mason, who said he considered it entirely his pleasure, adding his valuable admiration for the cute and lovable Fitzgerald. . . At Barry's table, Producer Mark Hellinger sitting around with his former New York newspaper cohorts and swapping chatter with another of his stars, Burt Lancaster, with Billy Rose and Mike Romanoff interested hangers-on.

Old Times Returning

Over at Radio City Music Hall, biggest cinema palace in the world, efforts apparently going on to bring back vaudeville. . . At least in that huge movie mosque, the in-person show includes some of the old staple vaudeville turns which made the two- and four-a-day such a heady pleasure in the old days. . . There even was the fellow who gave out a spiel about his potato peelers, ending up with the usual admonition to the urchins crowding around, "Get away from me, boys, you're botherin' me." . . But the Music Hall's famous feature, The Rockettes, was unchanged in its precise perfection as the gals kicked their toes toward the proscenium in incredibly faultless unison. . . The picture was good, too, "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," and in one of the leading roles was Edna Best, one of the stage and screen's nicest ladies, who married my fellow Buffalonian Nat Wolff, the Hollywood agent, after she divorced Herbert Marshall.

Staging New Revue

Paul Gallico, back on the column-ing beat, sold his famous story, "The Snow Goose," to J. Arthur Rank for a fancy sum. . . Out for afternoon coffee with Bert Wheeler, who announces in excitingly bubbling tones that he'll star in the new revue at the Carnival, the huge night club where Olsen and Johnson just closed a half-year's engagement.

Nervy Monkey Gets Nerve Test Reprieve

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—A monkey with touchy nerves stalled the march of science for at least an hour and a half.

Just as he was about to be taken to a laboratory for experiments on his nerve reactions, the 20-pound,

Costello, the latter to supply the Latin wiggling without which no Broadway floor show would be official any more.

two-foot tall simian subject broke loose from the arms of a technician at Jewish hospital, Brooklyn.

He raced through an open window, leaped into a courtyard, swung onto a telephone wire, ascended a nearby roof, ignored bait of apples and bananas offered by pursuers, leaped several feet to an elevated train structure, jumped into an open apartment window, awakened the baby of the house, and then darted into a closet.

Police tossed a can of ether into the closet. Hospital attendants said

Britain To Share Housing Discoveries

London, Aug. 7 (AP)—Britain has offered to share with Russia the discoveries of her scientists since the war in methods of housing construction.

It contained enough ether to knock a man out. But when the door was opened, the monkey was calmly playing with the can and biting it.

He was returned to the laboratory for another try at his nerves.

The British trade mission to Moscow, which bargained for Soviet timber for this country's housing program, has also delivered a government invitation for a Soviet housing mission to visit British reconstruction areas.

If the Russians accept, an announcement in the Board of Trade Journal said, the mission's attention will be called to new methods of housing construction in concrete,

WARSAW-MARSEILLES AIRLINE PLANNED

AGED COWHAND LEARNS TO FLY, HAS OWN PLANE

Delta, Colo., Aug. 7 (AP)—It just made Starr Nelson, an old Texas cowhand, plain mad when one "young squirt" after another told him he was too old to fly.

So he kept on trying until he found one who would teach him. Now the tall, spare ex-railroad engineer and one-time cowboy has been flying for five years, owns a plane and has logged more than 700 hours in the air.

He will be 81 next November 23.

Another World

To Nelson flying "is the door to another world. It's the most thrilling thing that can happen to man."

If Nelson isn't the oldest flier in this country, he'd like to meet up with the man who is. Much of his flying has been done over the high ranges of the Continental divide where the down-drafts often are hazardous.

"Guess that itchin' foot began when I was punching cows down in Texas back in the '80's," Nelson said. He herded cattle to Colorado and decided to stay awhile.

Nelson retired and had been retired for 32 years when he thought it would be fun to learn to handle an airplane the way he used to handle a "spooky" range horse.

Builds Airplane

Once he got his pilot's license, Nelson proposed that his home town of Delta, on Colorado's western slope, build an airport. But he didn't get action fast enough to suit him so he built one of his own on a 240-acre parcel of land.

Nelson, one of the few civilians ever granted permission to land at

Egypt Approves New Dam On Nile

Cairo, Aug. 7 (AP)—After 18 years of study, the Aswan dam electrification scheme has been approved by the Egyptian parliament. The Nile dam, one of the biggest in the world, was originally constructed to save water during the flood season. The dam, which cost $4,000,000, has 180 doors, 30 of which will be used in the electrification scheme. The government has accepted bids for machinery.

Experts estimate the electric power which could be produced annually at 1,645 million kilowatts, equal to the power from 590,000 tons of crude oil costing $8,000,000.

With Aswan power the government plans fertilizer, steel and other industries. Advocates of local production estimate that 320,000 tons of fertilizers would be produced in the early stages of the new industry and that this would grow to 435,000 tons per year.

The Aswan region has deposits of iron ore. Foreign experts reported these should be studied further to determine the practicability of developing a steel industry with Aswan power. The government announces it will ask bids on the establishment of a plant to produce 915,000 tons of steel annually.

Haruna's Daughter Picked For Movies

Tokyo, Aug. 7 (AP)—If 17-year Miss Haruna Kaburagi can sustain moviegoers' interest as steadily as her father's ship attracted American bombs during the war, she's a cinch to become a star.

PLASTIC PLANE, SAFER LANDING BEING DEVISED

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 7 (AP)—A. Derr Golladay figures if you could pour a plane's fuselage into a mold instead of riveting it out of as many as 30,000 parts, it would save the airplane industry a great deal of time.

Power Saving

A veteran aircraft designer, Golladay has a model for a fibreglass-plastic plane which he says he plans to produce in a small pilot plant here as soon as patent applications are completed.

"It can be made in two sections," he says, "and with a jet engine could soar or coast a full hour without thrust power."

"Secret of the slick performance is the elimination of air-drag, through cutting down on the number of parts in the structure."

"Only 75 pounds of engine power, one-fourth the normal amount, will be needed to fly the craft at 100 miles per hour."

Oven-Cured

The entire fuselage, including the "skin" may be contact pressure-molded and "cured" in a large oven, Golladay says.

The proposed ship would have a new type landing gear making it possible for the craft to land across ditches or on any rough terrain that would demolish ordinary aircraft.

Make Your Meal with Economy Meat Cuts

Use budget-wise, economy cuts of meat, as the backbone of your family meals these days. Serve them in endless, delicious ways . . . in meat pies, soups, stews, pot roast or "swiss-ed".

Economy cuts of beef are best when braised or water-cooked. To braise, brown in fat, season, cover and cook in a small amount of water until tender. To water-cook, cover with water and simmer—do not boil. This is the method used for soups and stews.

1 teaspoon prepared mustard

1/2 cup water

1/2 cup onion in butter. Add remaining ingredients and simmer until slightly thickened, about 30 minutes.

NOVEL RAILROAD WINDS THROUGH RANGE COUNTRY

Laramie, Wyo., Aug. 7 (AP)—With fifty-seven 12 degree curves in its 111-mile long main line, the Laramie, North Park and Western railroad claims a place among the most winding railways.

The 44-year-old railroad winds its circuitous way through the Medicine Bow National Forest between Laramie, Wyo., and Coalmont, Colo., over steep grades. Most of the range area through which the trains pass is unfenced so wandering herds of sheep and cattle often interrupt the trains. Deer and antelope also have halted operations at times.

Winter operations are difficult as snow often clogs the narrow cuts and passes and rotary snowplows have to be pressed into service to keep the track open.

Organized in 1903 with the high sounding title of Laramie, Hahns Peak and Pacific, the LNP & W changed hands and names several times. It gained its present name in 1924, and now is owned by the Union Pacific.

Primarily the road carries timber products from the Snowy Range area of southern Wyoming and the North Park region of northern Colorado to Laramie where connection is made with the Union Pacific. However, the road also hauls livestock, oil and hay.

The biggest diamond ever found was only a few feet from the surface of the mine and the superintendent pried it loose with the toe of his boot.

Diamond Mines Being Used Again

Johannesburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Orange Free State, where some of the world's richest gold finds have been made, will shortly also produce diamonds. At Theunissen, not far from the feverish activity at Odenburg where smoke is already rising from the new gold mines and mining towns are springing up on the bare veld, preparations are in hand for re-opening two diamond mines that have been idle for 20 years.

New machinery is arriving, old machinery is being repaired, miners' houses are being reoccupied and the ghost settlements are springing to life. Many of the old mine shafts became filled with water and were favorite fishing spots for local farmers. They are now being dewatered.

Postman Knows But Two Kinds Of Dogs

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 1 (AP)—Assistant Postmaster George Forbes says he has learned a lot about dogs during his years with the mail service—in fact he's almost a dog psychiatrist.

He says there's no middle ground about a dog's interest in the postman—the dog either loves him or hates him. If he loves him he'll follow the postman along the route so faithfully that residents frequently complain. If he hates the postman he'll usually try to bite him.

Either way it's tough on postal substitutes. When a sub covers a route—particularly in an area usually covered by a "loved" postman—the dogs resent the newcomer, thinking he's an intruder, and start nipping.

Woman Attends Movies Every Night

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 7 (AP)—Hey, Hollywood, how about a shiny, sedentary Oscar for Mrs. A. Rosen?

She has attended the movies almost every night for 35 years! Except for two brief periods when she was out of town and once when she was in a hospital, she has been the Old Faithful of the Flickers.

"In recognition of her unusual, if not unique, record, the staff of the Alhambra theater gave her a dozen roses, a string of 35 pearls, and a lifelong pass.

Although she has seen an army of actors and actresses pass across the screen, "he has no particular favorites.

"I just like the movies," she says.

English walnuts are 15 per cent protein.

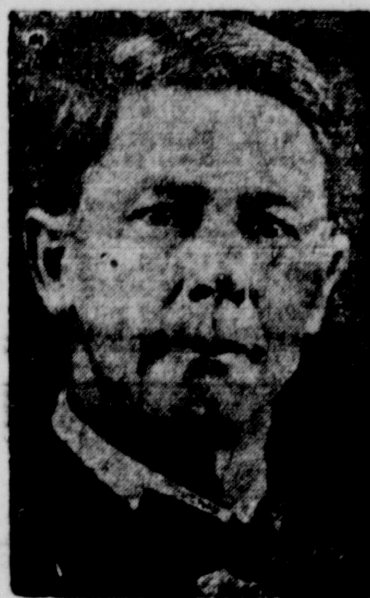

Finds Good Market For Shark Steaks

Morehead City, N. C., Aug. 9 (AP)—Shipping of frozen shark steaks has become an important Morehead City industry.

Ed Warren operates two boats in catching sharks some 15 miles off shore. The catch is processed and frozen here and then sent to markets from Tennessee to New York. Warren says there is a ready market for the steaks.

The sharks also provide fins for shark-fin soup, much esteemed by Orientals and gourmets, and their skins are snapped up by leather manufacturers. The livers, too, rich in vitamins, are easily sold. Some of them weigh as much as 100 pounds.

Temperature for fresh meat stored in the refrigerator more than a day should be below 45 degrees F.

LIPS DESERVE MORE THAN A 'SMEAR' JOB

By BETTY CLARKE
(AP Beauty Editor)

Certainly in summer you'll use less makeup than during other seasons. But whether you are the face-oil-after-the-swim type or just a suntan and lipstick girl, you should make your lip job a bit more than a smear.

Males are said to be becoming more and more critical of the overdone mouth, the painted exaggerated sneer which some girls impose upon their countenances in fancied emulation of Hollywood stars. Summer is a good season to seek more delicate effects.

If you've never used a lip brush, now is the time to try one. And if you've despaired of a lip brush because it is always collecting tobacco or dust in the bottom of your bag and needs a thorough cleaning each time you use it, you'll appreciate some of the new containers which keep the brushes absolutely clean.

Some of these brushes are encased in metal with a push button contrivance at the end which causes the brush to pop out when you are ready to use it.

Perhaps one of the smartest ideas

Make Garments For Night Wear

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 7 (P) — A luminous fabric coated with 30,000 microscopic glass spheres per square inch has been readied for market as a pedestrian nighttime safety aid by a St. Paul firm.

Announcing the fabric, the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company said that the product (Scotchlite), is rated 150 times brighter than white paint at night. Several cities have made tests of the material for use on uniforms, gloves and caps as a protection for night traffic officers, and Washington, D. C., has ordered it for use in Sam Browne belts worn by park policemen.

The fabric is waterproof and flexible, and can be laundered or dry-cleaned. The millions of tiny glass spheres reflect the light from ap-to date is the new gold-plated lipstick container which has a lip brush on the other end. In three sections, the brush can be removed and the lipstick used alone, if you prefer or you can keep it all intact for a very smart beauty grooming accessory.

At first it may be difficult to wield the lip brush, but don't give up hope. It takes only a few times and pretty soon you will perfect your own method of application and your own lip pattern.

RADIO HELPING NEW TREATMENT

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 7 (P) — Radar-length radio waves are being used in a new heat-treatment machine at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

It employs radio waves that vibrate three billion times per second and have a wave length of about four inches. They are waves 30 times shorter than those used in previous machines.

The device has been tested successfully on dogs, and will be applied to treating humans, Drs. Frank J. Krusen, J. F. Herrick, Ursula Leden and Khalil G. Wakim report in the Proceedings of the Staff Meetings of the Mayo Clinic, a fortnightly bulletin.

Heart machines beam electrical currents or radiation into the body to heat muscles or other internal tissue, producing a kind of artificial fever. Such heat is beneficial in treating sprains, stiffness, and in helping the body fight infections.

The ultra-short radio waves can be focussed better, the Mayo researchers said.

The city of Rochester, Minn., has ordered enough of the reflective plastic to cement to $2,500 bicycles for night riding safety.

Inland Waterways Restored In France

Paris, Aug. 7 (P) — France has restored 99 per cent of her inland waterway transport since the war, J. Dubreuil, chairman of a French transport committee, has announced.

Of 12,000 boats on inland streams, 2,000 were destroyed and 5,000 damaged during the war, he said. He pointed out that the inland system's 3,700,000 tons was 900,000 tons more than the seagoing merchant marine and that Paris' port traffic of 14 million tons surpassed even Marseille's eight million tons of goods handled.

searchers said, and permit high internal heating without undue heating of the skin. They can be spotlighted to reach only certain areas.

The heart of the new machine is a tube like that used in radar. In radar this tube, called the magnetron, sends out bursts of radio wave, which are reflected or echoed back by the target. In the heat machine, the tube is modified to send out a continuous beam of radio waves.

The machine can be placed very close to the body, but the patient can move away temporarily if the skin temperature becomes uncomfortable, they said.

Tea or coffee stains on china cups may be removed by rubbing with a damp cloth dipped in soda.

U. S. TO GET $152,840 IN GERMAN CAMERAS

Minden, Germany, (P) — Contracts have been signed for the supply of German cameras to the United States (contract value $152,840) and

Belgium (contract value $20,672), the British military government has announced.

Bloomington, Ill., (P) — John Vancena has a collection of almost 300 pitchers, but none of the type which could help the White Sox, Pirates, et al. Vancena's pitchers are made of china, sea shells, brass, granite, tin, wood, pottery and glass.

Looking for a company luncheon menu that will "do you proud" and still not "do you in" on a sweltering day? Serve colorful cheese-tomato aspic on crisp greens... dainty sandwiches... luscious cake with chocolate-marshmallow sauce... and iced coffee a la mode. Sounds yummy, doesn't it? Best of all, there's practically no cooking involved, as you'll see by the recipes below.

AM-INSPIRING ASPIC

Just what the doctor ordered to make six folks say "Ah!"... tomato-cheese aspic made like this: Soften 1 tsp. plain gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water and dissolve in 2 cups hot tomato juice. Chill till slightly thickened; add 1 tsp. minced onion, 1 tsp. minced green pepper, 1 tsp. Worcester-shire sauce, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1 cup grated MEL-O-BIT AMERICAN CHEESE—that grand, tangy cheese you get at the A&P. Pour into greased quart ring mold. Chill till firm.

SMOOTH SANDWICH SPREAD

To dress up peanut butter for party sandwiches, mix it with marmalade, grated raw carrot or chopped dried fruit. And to be sure your spread is smooth and rich, use A&P's ANN PAGE PEANUT BUTTER. It's made of carefully roasted, high-grade peanuts.

DESSERT DELIGHT

To top off a perfect luncheon, thin marshmallow sauce lightly with milk and pour over slices of oven-fresh JANE PARKER POUND CAKE from the A&P. Melt unsweetened chocolate and a little butter over hot water. Cool slightly and pour over marshmallow.

COFFEE COOLER

For iced coffee that's different, brew your favorite blend of A&P COFFEE (Eight O'Clock, Red Circle, or Bolivar) double strength; pour hot over 16 quartered marshmallows; stir till dissolved. Whip 1 cup chilled evaporated milk and fold into mixture. Freeze in ice cube tray. When partly frozen, stir well and continue freezing. Just before serving iced A&P COFFEE, put a scoop of this ice cream in each glass, and you'll scoop up compliments!

Four Burned To Crisp As Small Plane Drops Into Wide Chimney At Oil Plant

MOTOR FAILS, AND SHIP HITS BROAD FLUE

Everett, Mass., Aug. 7 (AP)—Thomas Mandell, 46, an official of the Carrier-Mandell Air Conditioning corporation, plunged to a fiery death with two daughters and the pilot of a chartered plane when it shot down into a gas-fume chimney of the Beacon oil plant early today.

Police said the motor of the small craft apparently "conked out" over the big vent and "dropped in like a dead pigeon."

Perishing with Mandell, the son of George S. Mandell former publisher of the old Boston Transcript, were his daughters, Anne, 22, and Harriet, 19, and the pilot, Nelson Pell.

Identification was made by Mrs. Frederiek Ayer, Mandell's cousin, and the sister of the late General George S. Patton.

The party was returned from Montreal after visiting Mrs. Cyrus Graig, another daughter of Mandell. The battered bodies were found in debris at the bottom of the flue. Portions of the craft—identified by authorities as a Stinson—were stuck in the 25-foot high, 10-foot wide chimney. The wings were sheared as the plane hit the vent.

Series of Blasts

Witnesses reported that the crash was followed by a series of blasts, apparently caused by exploding gasoline in the plane. Firemen extinguished the flames quickly.

Company officials said that speedy shutting off of the plant's gas possibly averted a more serious disaster. The craft, flying in a low hanging fog, narrowly missed a 200-foot high gasoline-cracking unit in the refinery plant, the scene of a serious fire last winter.

Three bodies were recovered at the bottom of the massive vent. The other was trapped under the plane's engine. Tangled wreckage from the plane ribbed the chimney.

On Montreal Trip

Police said they found a registration in the pocket door of the plane indicating it had been flown from Beverly, Mass., airport. Police Captain William Childs reported that airport said the plane was ascribed by Eastern aviation and had been chartered by North Atlantic Airways for

Chinese Farmers Want Colored Spray

Shanghai, Aug. 7 (AP)—Chinese farmers are noted more for their practicality than for their aesthetic appreciation. Therefore UNRRA's chemists in the UNRRA pesticides manufacturing plant here, where UNRRA is training young Chinese to produce insect-killing sprays and dusts, were puzzled at requests that DDT dust, pyrethrum powder and other chemicals be tinted rose and azure and maize. But the reason was purely practical.

When UNRRA first distributed bug poisons in China, it used American-made pesticides which had been tinted according to various state laws. The pink and blue poisons did their work—and the farmers were convinced it was the color that did it!

a trip to Montreal yesterday morning.

The police captain said the Beverly airport identified the pilot as Nelson Pell, 23, of Hamilton, Mass., and the passengers on the outgoing flight as Thomas Mandell of Beverly and his two daughters, Harriet, 19, and Anne, 22, of Boston.

SEEK TO HOLD NEW POTATO WORM IN N.Y.

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—The "golden nematode," a hardy little worm with a voracious appetite for potatoes materialized from nowhere in Long Island's Nassau county a few years ago and made itself at home. Plant doctors studied and experimented frantically to control the spread of the worm. The golden nematode seemed to resist all spray and dust measures.

Then, because it threatened to spread outside the county, the New York State Department of Agriculture slapped a quarantine on Nassau potatoes and anything which might come in contact with them. The golden nematode seems to have been hemmed in.

Farmers can't ship their potatoes outside the county and must sterilize potato-raising tools before they can take them over the county line. And they are being urged to plant some other crop—principally a cover crop for a few years so that the golden nematode may be starved out.

Quarantine Works Well

The quarantine seems to be working well. It is one of hundreds of plant quarantines being enforced in the nation today.

An army of state and federal inspectors is stationed all over the United States, guarding ports, air terminals, railroad tracks and highways crossing state lines to make sure that devastating insects, diseases and viruses are held within known boundaries where they can be exterminated by joint action.

Each state has at least half a dozen quarantines on carriers of plant destroyers; California alone has 24. Entomologists and plant pathologists by the score search planes, boats, trucks, trains and automobiles.

The federal department of agriculture also has imposed a vast number of quarantines banning certain imports from the United States.

Some polished diamonds are so tiny that it takes 1,000 to make one carat.

U. S. farm families ate about 183 million chickens in 1946.

WANTS RECORDS OF NAZIS KEPT

Prague, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Eduard Benes has proposed that Czechoslovakia keep an "eternal public record"—preferably as a state museum—of all documentary and other evidences of the crimes Nazi Germany committed against the Czech state.

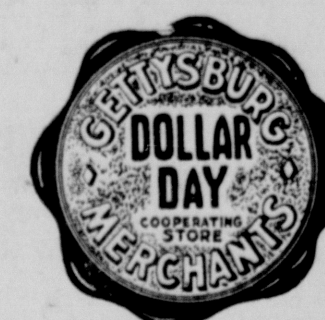

"We must have our evidence ready," he said, "and must perpetually remind our people and the Germans of its existence. There will come a time, perhaps in five years, but more probably in two, when the Germans will accuse us of chauvinism and will complain that the Czechs expelled them (from the Sudetanland). They will bewail the property they left behind and demand compensation."

"Then we must refuse to pay a penny as long as they have not paid for what they have stolen and robbed during the occupation."

DAR UPSET BY 20,000 NAMES MISSED IN LIST

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Discovery that the names of some 20,000 soldiers and sailors have not been included in the official list of those who served in the American Revolution has caused a stir in D. A. R. circles.

If the records are certified, officials of the Daughters of the American Revolution here say many thousands more women throughout the nation will be eligible to join the national society.

Mrs. Herbert E. McQueston, state regent, discovered the names were omitted in volumes published by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Chief Sources
Chief source for service records of Massachusetts men who participated in the revolution, and whose descendants now are to be found in every state of the union, consists of 17 volumes published in 1896.

Work on the records was begun in September, 1891, by making a card index to all names found on the muster rolls, pay rolls and other documents in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

When announcement of the proposed publication of the records was made, towns, cities and individuals promptly turned over muster rolls, pay rolls and other papers in their possession pertaining to the Revolutionary War.

The records were published in 1896. However, Mrs. McQueston points out that since that date, other rolls have been added to the collection on file. Approximately 30,000 service records have been indexed.

Action Was Asked

Recently a check of the individual records in these files was made against the records in the published volumes. Then it was found that about two-thirds, or 20,000 of the records in the added rolls, were not included in the "official" published records.

Action to remedy this situation is being "respectfully requested" of Governor Robert F. Bradford of Massachusetts, both branches of the Massachusetts legislature and the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

"Descendants of Massachusetts patriots, regardless of present place of residence," says the D. A. R. "can help to hasten publication of these records by communicating with the Massachusetts state departments and officials, expressing interest in their immediate publication."

If efforts to secure publication of the names in the official list proves successful, the D. A. R. feels a new and immense field for research will be opened to historians, genealogists and scholars.

Official Tribute To James Whiteley

Brussels, Aug. 7 (AP)—An official tribute was paid by the Belgium ministry of foreign affairs to the late James Whiteley of Baltimore, consul general of Belgium, who died June 16.

In a communique announcing the death of the American, the ministry said: "During 43 years he devoted himself entirely to the cause of Belgium and of its colony."

Before being appointed Belgium's consul general in Baltimore, Mr. Whiteley had been consul general for the Free State of the Congo.

Australian Births Show Big Increase

Canberra, Aug. 7 (AP)—The natural increase in Australia's population last year was the largest on record with births of 176,408 exceeding deaths by 101,740.

The birthrate in 1946 was 23.68 a thousand of population and the highest since the record rate of 23.75 in 1923, Australian Government Statistician Dr. Roland Wilson reported.

Statisticians expect the Australian census next will show Australia's population is around 7,500,000 compared with 6,630,000 in the last census in 1933.

STATUARY GETS FACE-LIFTING JOB FOR $7,000

Harrisburg, Aug. 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania's world-renowned George Grey Barnard statuary is getting a $7,000 face-lifting.

A special penetrating wax is being worked into the faces of the sculptured figures flanking either side of the main entrance of the Keystone state's granite capitol.

Frank Hoffman, deputy secretary of property and supplies, said the operation should "preserve the priceless marble statuary for another 40 years or so."

Wore Blankets Through Winter

He said the experts also will place preservative in cracks which had developed in the two groups — one representing men and women in attitudes representing the spiritual burdens of mankind and the other humanity advancing through the inspiration of work and brotherhood.

Counted by Barnard himself as one of his greatest works, the statuary was sculptured from Carrara marble and dedicated in 1911. A native of Bellefonte, Barnard is buried in Harrisburg because he wanted to be near his works even in death.

A wooden blanket was erected around the statuary last winter to keep out the wind and rain until

Million In Bullion Is Moved To Mint

Philadelphia, Aug. 7 (AP)—Silver bullion valued at more than $1,000,000 was moved from Burlington, N. J., to the Philadelphia mint over a six month period ending last May.

The preservative treatment could be completed.

"The water was getting into the cracks and freezing," Hoffman explained. "Something had to be done to save them for posterity."

25. Bernard J. Kelly, manager of the Reconstruction Finance corporation in this area revealed yesterday that the silver, stored in the former Aluminum Company of America plant at Burlington, was trucked across the Delaware river by George Headley, Chester, Pa.

Kelly said the cache contained 4,000 of approximately 16,300 tons of silver loaned to the Reconstruction Finance corporation by the U. S. Treasury.

Originally the silver was consigned to Alcoa's Burlington plant to be made into bars for heavy duty conductors of electrical current during the period when copper was needed for more critical uses.

reconversion is still with us

The telephone industry, more than almost any other, performed a really "all out" war job. This applied to both equipment manufacturers and telephone companies. That is why we have had to work far faster and harder to speed our reconversion. However, we feel that we are doing a good job—and our record of progress proves it. We are gradually solving all reconversion problems, and hope to be on a normal basis before too long.

BOUNDARIES IN MUDDLE AFTER YEARS OF WAR

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—For years map-makers haven't been able to draw the boundaries of the nations of Europe. They still can't.

The borders were so scrambled by the war, and still are, that the map-makers have to wait until they're finally settled by peace treaties.

In the meantime the cartographers of the National Geographic Society, for instance, are engaged in making maps of Canada and various sections of the United States as well as of other countries whose borders weren't changed by the war.

The National Geographic Society, distributed to members in editions of the National Geographic Magazine, have come to form a standard source of reference in schools and libraries everywhere.

Since publishing its first map supplement in June 1899, the society has distributed 89,976,872 copies of 101 large full-color maps. As of April this year, the number of copies of each map has grown to 1,600,000.

Ten maps of Europe were published from the beginning of the century up to World War II.

During the seven years encompassing the war the society supplied members and the armed services with more than 37,400,000 large 10-color maps.

Used By Army, Navy
The War Department, during the war, used more than 1,000,000 National Geographic maps. One order alone called for 80,000 copies of the China map issued in June 1943.

The Navy also used the maps. One of its early orders was for several hundred copies of the map of the Pacific ocean, to be sent to ships in that area, right after Pearl Harbor.

The society boasts that its maps are "clear, concise and comprehensive, containing a wealth of information" and points to the 1946 map of the United States as an example. It bears 10,750 place names. In addition to this new one-sheet map of this country, the society has just issued the fourth in its series of U. S. regional maps. On these maps virtually all of the sizeable towns appear.

New maps have been made of Bible lands and the Classical Lands of the Mediterranean. There are also maps of the world by hemispheres. Included in the maps are such items as airfields, airlines, naval bases, oil pipelines and ship routes, as well as railways, roads, towns, drainage, relief, boundaries, time zones.

How Maps Made
The first supplements were of the newly acquired Philippines. The plates were borrowed from the government. As the society grew it organized its own research and cartographic staff, which has since designed and produced all the maps.

The map-making project has been financed from membership dues. Albert H. Bumstead, the first chief cartographer, devised a method of photo-printing for all map lettering. Place names, for instance, under this device can be produced in any size and can be printed in curves instead of straight lines.

In making a map, the area and projection are first decided upon, then the intersection points for a network of lines to represent latitude and longitude.

From the first the making of a map requires more than a score of cartographers, draftsmen, research workers and checkers. Making the mountains on one typical map, for instance, required three months of work.

Painting the handles of garden tools a bright color to make them easily seen on the ground will help reduce accidents.

SEXES WAGING BATTLES IN BERLIN PRESS

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—Berlin's marriageable youth has been waging a battle of the sexes in the city's newspapers.

The girls started it by charging that German young men nowadays were lackadaisical lovers.

"And they can't blame caloric sickness (skinny diet) for their laxity," the girls said, "for we get the same small food rations they do."

When answers came from twelve young men selected by a newspaper interviewer to defend their sex, there were evidences of bitterness in their tones.

The young men noted that, because of Germany's post-war excess of women over men, female companionship was easy to find.

"Takes Courage"
But some complained that "allied men (occupation soldiers) are preferred" and others that their small wages would not permit them to court girls with cigarettes and chocolates which are very expensive in the black market.

A young boxer observed that "nowadays many girls seem willing and eager to court the man" but he was hesitant about marriage because it

U.S. Gift Parcels Pour Into Germany

Berlin, Aug. 7 (AP)—Gift parcels from the United States are pouring into Germany at the rate of 400,000 weekly, postal officials of American military government announced.

This amounts to approximately 4,000,000 pounds of food and clothing.

Since the gift relief parcel service first began to the U. S. zone last June and later to other zones, Americans have sent more than 10,500,000 packages.

Authorities said that in addition to providing Germans badly needed food, clothing and medical supplies, the postal revenue earned by the German reichspost for delivering the packages is being applied in the Anglo-American zones to the Export-Import program to help pay for food imports. Since the opening of the service this revenue in the combined zones has totaled $1,937,000.

Coal, gold, quartz and iron ore are the chief minerals of New Zealand.

A journalist complained that "all the girls now want to talk about the great love and marriage" and added: "In these times it takes courage for a man to marry."

A 21-year-old wounded war veteran remarked bitterly: "Maybe they aren't all pleasure-chasers, but it is well-known that women nowadays are bad. Too many women whose husbands still are prisoners of war have comforted themselves with others."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 5 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PREFERS DUCK OR TURKEY TO RATTLESNAKE

Washington, Aug. 7 (AP)—Dr. Albert Kendrick Fisher, first chief of the U. S. Biological Survey, says he is the man who discovered you could eat rattlesnake meat and live.

That was long before they started canning the stuff and selling it for $1 a pound.

Dr. Fisher, who recently celebrated his 92nd birthday eating roast beef at the historic Cosmos Club with a group of cronies, says rattlesnake meat is okay when you haven't got anything else and you're starving.

Let the gourmets have it, says he. He prefers roast canvas-back duck, which feeds on celery and has a much superior flavor.

Retired in 1931

"It's not bad eating," says he.

"I don't like white meat of any kind, and I think chicken is poor, but I'm willing to eat the dark meat of turkey on Thanksgiving."

Dr. Fisher retired from government service after 46 years back in 1931.

It was in 1890 when Dr. Fisher, leading a party of six, got two weeks ahead of the chuck wagons out in Death Valley in California.

When they got to the starving point the party reasoned that anything alive was food, so they dished themselves up some rattlesnakes, lizards and other items, like skunk cabbage.

Dr. Fisher says some Indians may have eaten rattlesnake meat before then, but he's sure no white man ever tackled it.

"What do you want to know all this for?" Dr. Fisher asked me. "Women are so curious. But some are interesting and some are full of the devil."

Likes Women, But—

Dr. Fisher says he hates to see women smoking. He says women who smoke can't have healthy chil-

RUBBER CHECK TIP
BOUNCES ROUND ROBIN

Vallejo, Calif., (AP)—The bounce of a bad check reaches the ears of 52 Vallejo merchants in quick order under a cooperative warning project of the local Credit Granters club.

Police headquarters rushes the first tip—and check passer's description—to the club. The club calls four local stores, each of which calls three others, each of which calls three others.

Nor does he like the way women stain their fingernails and drink cocktails.

"And those high, four-inch heels they wear are just ruining their ankles. Nature didn't mean them to walk only on the fronts of their feet," he says.

"I think eating in the middle of the afternoon is an accursed habit, too," Dr. Fisher commented.

"What do you like?" I asked.

"Women," said Dr. Fisher with a chuckle.

POLL SHOWS LONG SKIRTS NOT POPULAR

By ADELAIDE KERR

New York, Aug. 7 (P)—Will American clubwomen accept the new fall fashions—the most drastic change shown in years?

Buyers who saw the collections (stressing longer skirts and featuring sloping shoulders, larger-crowned close-fitting hats and some coats built on 1920 wrap-around lines) have been asking themselves that question.

So I put it to a half dozen clubwomen attending the 1947 convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in New York and the answers popped as fast as popcorn over a fire. This is what they said:

Mrs. H. Leslie Howard, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. (silver-haired and dressed in conservative black and white): "Women won't stand for long skirts. An inch longer maybe, but not 11 inches from the floor. They are unbecoming and they don't give as much freedom either. Shorter skirts are more becoming and youthful. And when you're on the wrong side of 40 you want to look as well as you can."

Mrs. Williams Adams, of Philadelphia, Pa. (who topped her grey hair with a red headband and wore a printed frock): "I wouldn't wear them either. It means a whole change of wardrobe, probably. And there is a decided tendency for women to spend less on clothes now. They think prices are too high for the value received."

Mrs. Laella Laudin, of New York (a dark-haired younger woman in a red and green print frock): "That's right. Every time I have admired the clothes women were wearing at this convention, they told me that they didn't buy one new thing for this trip."

Mrs. Sam Rennie, of El Paso, Texas (dressed in smart white and pearls): "I like the longer skirts and I'm going to wear them. I'm so tired of the middle aged spread above those short skirts. It isn't necessary to buy a whole new wardrobe. There are so many pelumps and additions to waistlines that many skirts can be lowered from the top."

Mrs. Laudin: "I can lengthen my dresses. And I'm going to wear out my old clothes. I don't care if I'm the last woman in New York in a short dress."

Mrs. Arthur Jehl, of Chicago, Ill. (youthful and pretty grandmother in a blue and pink veiling hat): "I have been through all these phases before. In my scrapbook I have snapshots of myself in all lengths, and in lots of different silhouettes and hats. And I have felt good in every one of them. I think women will probably take to the long skirts. They have done it before—though I laugh at myself when I look at those pictures."

Mrs. John T. Rogers, of Laramie, Wyo. (a motherly figure dressed in blue with a wide-brimmed hat): "It's not long skirts we need. It's long sleeves. Why don't they give us long sleeves?"

Mrs. Adams: "I hear they are doing away with such wide exaggerated shoulders and making shoulders more natural. I'm certainly glad to hear that."

Mrs. Jehl: "You have to have some shoulder padding, though, to balance that middle-aged spread. You have to give nature a little help."

Mrs. Rogers: "I don't like the idea of that figure eight silhouette, though. I couldn't wear it."

Mrs. Rennie (dryly): "Neither could your daughter probably. Young people don't wear stays now, so they don't have small waists. . . . They say some furriers showed coats with big shawl collars and sloping shoulders and wrap-around lines. I think I should like them. They could be very elegant."

Mrs. Adams: "I think I should not like them. With those big collars, they would probably be very expensive."

Mrs. Rennie: "I'm glad to hear that hats are going to be larger. We have had enough of little hats. They have been on the nose, on the ear, a little 'happy hooligan' on top of the head, and I'm tired of it."

Mrs. Adams: "Women don't like hats any more anyway. I just wear this little band and many other women like the same thing."

Mrs. Laudin: "One thing I won't do, and that is wear a cloche. If it's the last hat left in New York, I'll go bareheaded first. But don't make me sound like Carrie Nation, dear."

Teen-Age Youngsters Are Given Vacations

Frankfurt, Aug. 7 (P)—Twenty-two thousand teen-aged youngsters from displaced persons camps in the American zone of Germany are getting two weeks vacations at summer recreational camps, U. S. Army headquarters announced.

"The project provides camping opportunities, recreational facilities and a healthful change under complete guidance and counsel for children between the ages of 10 to 18 years," the announcement said. "Each child receives a supplemental ration of 350 calories, bringing the daily individual diet to 3,000 calories."

The program is sponsored by the world YMCA-YWCA, with the cooperation of the U. S. Army and several welfare organizations affiliated with UNRRA.

Salt Lake City (AP)—Gifts flowed into the Ralph Tannenbaum home after the arrival of a baby daughter. One present puzzled the new mother—a glass cigarette tray. But a card explained it. A San Francisco friend had just got around to sending the Tannenbaums a wedding present, five years after the ceremony.

The sweet potato surpasses the white potato as a source of carbohydrates.

Chapter 7

Perhaps Hardin noted the thunder gathering on Norway's face or perhaps he was struck by a rare twinge of conscience—he assigned two more men to help Andrews undercut the giant fir that afternoon.

In spite of his liking for the big Scandinavian Doug was relieved that others had been chosen to work with him. He wanted to know something of each logger individually, not just as a part of a group, and laboring together on the big tree was a good way to do it. With each chip that flew from the raw gash he learned something about the men, the company, or the English and Nordic tongues. Oaths were as numerous and sturdy as the trees around them. But if there was any ill feeling for Hardin as logging boss, it was not expressed. Only Norway had spoken up.

By four o'clock the tree was ready. Doug yelled out the warning "Timber-r-r-r!" and swung. With a crash that made the ground tremble as with an earthquake, the forest giant fell into the center of the clearing. Kicking aside splinters Hardin walked over and inspected it critically.

"This'll make a good spar tree, better than the one Elmo was working on yesterday," he said. "OK you peckers, get busy."

When they returned to camp, Norway took Doug over to the mess shack.

"Hey you, Ollie," he shouted, "You got something to fix Doug's hands?"

The little Swede examined Doug's palms. "By God, what did Bill Hardin do? Make you cut down the whole forest?"

"If feels like it," Doug admitted ruefully blowing on his throbbing blisters. "Guess I got soft in the Army."

"Soft! Five years he spends fighting those devils in the islands and he says he is soft! Should have hardened your hands first and worn gloves, Doug, now you pay for it."

He applied some greasy ointment of his own concoction then taped his friend's hands. "I have extra gloves, you wear them tomorrow."

Then as Doug thanked him Ollie added, "Miss Larson leave message for you. . . . She say come up to the house after dinner, she want to talk with you." Grinning he gave Doug a sharp prod in the ribs. "Watch out for Hardin, he's a jealous man sometimes."

Doug-tired after his first day's work Doug half considered ignoring the invitation, or was it a command? he mused. After all Elsa was his boss in one sense of the word. Probably wanted to talk about Glen Slocum. He wondered idly if there had been more than friendship between them but Glen had never spoken of Elsa as his girl and from the way Hardin had acted the previous night he'd gathered that the boss logger considered himself top man in her life.

At seven a truck carrying a group of loggers to Queen's Inlet headed down the skidroad and Doug hopped a ride on the running board as far as the Larson's. When he left them the men grinning significantly but apparently felt they still didn't know him well enough to make any comments.

Elsa was waiting for him. She stood with her back to the sun so that the first glimpse Doug had of her was a shadowed figure whose head was haloed with a nimbus of tawny gold. The hound at her feet was joined by his mate as Doug approached.

"Hello Doug," Elsa said, "I hoped you'd come."

He grinned. "I was practically told I'd be taking my life in my hands if I did."

Her enormous eyes grew somber. "I don't understand."

"Hardin."

"Oh." The amber irises sparkled again. "You ought to know logging camps well enough not to fall for all the stories that drift around."

She didn't ask him into the house but led him over to a rustic bench. He sat there waiting for her to begin and looking around him. The Larson house was a big rambling structure built of peeled madrona logs that gleamed like birch in the sunset. It seemed to belong to the forest yet around it was a strangely prim yet beautiful old-fashioned garden just coming into bloom. Evidently Elsa cared for it for loam-enriched tools and worn gloves were on the seat beside her. She seemed undecided how to begin until Doug was unable to control a yawn that overtook him, then she smiled.

"I know you're dead tired. I wouldn't have sent for you if I hadn't thought it important."

"I thought you probably wanted to talk about Glen Slocum."

"No-o-o, not exactly, though it's because you were his friend—"

"What's bothering you, Miss Larson?" He forced her eyes to meet his.

"Elsa," she corrected, paused, then rushed ahead impulsively. "Doug, something has been happening in our camp. Accidents . . . a whole series of them. We thought it was just bad luck or carelessness. Now we know someone is behind it—the snapped cable that injured Elmo yesterday had been cut."

"Hmmm," he pretended surprise. "A villain in the woodpile, eh?"

"Yes, Ed, my half-brother, discovered the cable and fixed it up, but Charlie and Norway know too. Ed thought it better if the others weren't told. We need loggers so badly and that sort of thing—"

"Why are you telling me then?"

"Because you are Glen's friend and I don't want you to work for us with your eyes shut. There may be more accidents. I—I, well, if you want to join up with some other outfit, I'll understand."

Doug felt unreasonably pleased at her words; having someone concerned over you was an agreeable sensation, especially when that someone was as attractive a girl as Elsa Larson. But before he could say anything the back door slammed and a man came toward them. Beside him Elsa sucked in her breath sharply.

"Here comes Ed now. Please don't say anything to him, Doug. I mean don't let him know that I told you about the cable."

There was a strange unaccountable urgency in her voice.

You can figure on three or four servings from a duck that weighs 5 pounds.
